A decision is expected early this week also from the supreme court in the authracite coal cases, which are spoken of by the officials as the "Hearst coal cases." This decision was expected up to the last day before the summer recess. It is of vast importance to the anthracite coal roads and to the coal-consuming public.

The case was brought by the govern-ment to force compliance with the com-medities section of the Hepburn railroad act, which prohibited railroads from own-ing and operating mines, the product of which were open for sale in the public market.

The purpose of the act was to break up the trusts in the sale of the anthracite because of the ownership of the mines by railroad companies.

STEEL COMPANIES BREAKING RECORDS.

Heavy Pressure for Deliveries; Labor Scarce Owing to Departure of Foreigners.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.-Stimulated b

NEW YORK, Oct, 12.—Stimulated by the pressure for deliveries on steel contracts, a growing tonnage of unfilled orders and extremely favorable weather for plant operations, the steel companies are counting on breaking all production records for crude and finished steel this month. To do this it is necessary for the United States Steel corporation to turn out nearly 1,525,000 tons, and other steel companies to produce nearly 1,150,000 tons of steel ingots.

The one great drawback is the difficulty of getting and holding labor. The war in the Balkans already has drawn thousands of foreigners back to Europeans and the steel companies are producing to day at the rate of nearly 22,100,000 tons of steel ingots, 30,800,000 tons of pig fron, and 22,875,000 tons of finished products, but the sverage for the year will be less, present indications pointing to 30,000,000 tons of pig fron, and 22,500,000 tons of pig fron, and 22,500,000 tons of finished steel products. This would break all previous records.

War in the Balkans Sends Dynamite Conspiracy Trial at Prices Downward; Imports of Gold Impeded.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.-The outbreak WASHINGTON Oct. 13 -In the United in the Balkans shifted speculative attention to foreign quarters last week. Aside day Saturday and diversion of interest

> New York's recourse to London flected for gold was cut off by the more pressing requirements made by the war. The strong advance in grain markets was a notice of the increase of demand for our foodstuffs, which will grow out of the war and which must be financed in the exchange market

While account is taken of the danger

While account is taken of the danger of a general European embroilment, such a result was regarded unlikely. That the effect of the war on financial markets was out of proportion to the immediate consequences involved, is attributed to other causes. An overextended credit position is the principal of these. London and Paris are congested with capital issues, especially foreign loans. While gold imports are impeded, New York is still called upon to meet large interior demands for currency. Interior banks are decreasingly able to take over Wall street loans called by banks. The government crop report warrants the conclusion that the year's production will be the greatest in the country's history. Grain movements keeps its volume and the benefits are showing in returns of railroad earnings. Increasing shortage of freight cars presents a danger, but measures the prodigious volume of traffic.

This would break all previous records.

The United States Steel corporation in September booked orders for approximately 1,488,000 tons, and shipped about 1,100,000 tots of finished steel products. The active buying of finished materials has forced the hands of the largest interests, resulting in another advance of $1 a ton in the price of bars, plates and ahapes and blue chameled sheets by the Steel corporation subsidiaries, and $1 a ton en steel hoops and wire products by independents.

Even when addicted to comic opera she was sedate and at times almost but there is no doubt now that she is rollicking and frolicsome Direct from her tour of England, where she is said to have hit the English faucy squarely between the eyes, she presents her vaudeville songs in such a taking way as to be acclaimed after each number. She first appears in the dignified style of a prima donna, which is gravely reminiscent of the old days. Her next song is a sprightly "ragtune that gives her the desired opportunity to "rollick." After displaying her capabilities in this line she turns time backward in its flight and plays the baby act naively. The song is something about a "Reno Orphan." The idea is clever and the song tickles the audience immensely. At the conclusion of her act she received two large bouquets, one of chrysanthenums and the other of roses. Harry Armstrong and Billy Clark, the comedy song writers, are lively enter-tainers. They feature their latest compositions, "Driving Home the Cows from Pasture," "Slip Your Glad Rags On and Come With Me," "The Frisco Rag" and
